Ghost Hunter Scavenger Hunt

As you wander and explore, use the clues below to find creepy, unusual, and fun items around the Museum. How many can you find?

1 Head to Beach Lodge, if you dare! Normally a den is this animal's lair, but inside the lodge, you'll find a great big bear.

2 Like creepy things and want some more? Head right over to the General Store. Filled to the brim with things from a time before. Locate the stairs near the back door and then find an eerie doctor's office on the second floor!

3 Apothecaries were true trailblazers, providing creative medicine when health fazed you! Inside the Apothecary Shop, you'll be a bottle-gazer, but what you're really searching for are those creepy sharp razors!

4 All around the Museum, statues stand on the lawn, for visitors to gaze at and look upon; to move these it takes a great deal of brawn. One cheeky statue looks like it needed a rest, it leans on Dutton House almost if in mid-yawn!

5 Dutton House dares you to step inside, where things of old are on every side. Explore this ghostly aged abode, which someone used to call a home!

6 From Cambridge came this Covered Bridge, to Shelburne Museum forever to live. Passageway across water it does give. Is it close to Route 7? Yes, a smidge!

7 Stagecoach Inn is filled with folk art galore! You'll find a dentist's sign within its doors. Where you'll visit when your mouth feels sore. Believe us, we're telling the truth; in this building you'll find a giant tooth!

8 Inside the Jail, you won't find magic, potions, or spells, but you will find two simple meager cells, where behind bars, prisoners would dwell.

9 The Hat and Fragrance Galleries burst with things made of fabrics and thread, to remember those who were loved, memories sewn from the head. Weeping willows represent grief, life, and death; how many willows can you count, dear guest?

10 Variety Unit is a maze of halls. Glass, pewter, and pottery fill the stalls. But if up the stairs you crawl, you'll find a collection of interesting dolls!
